

Celebrate Geography!

There are several opportunities to celebrate geography throughout the year. Here are a few resources and events teachers can access to bring the world to their students.

My Wonderful World

<http://www.mywonderfulworld.org>

My wonderful World is a national Geographic-led campaign to expand geographic learning in school, at home and in the community. Resources for teachers, students, and parents are available on the website.

National Geographic Bee

<http://www.nationalgeographic.com/geographybee/>

Involve your school in the national Geographic Bee. Students in grades 4-8 are eligible to compete. Visit the official website for information on registration and for dates and deadlines. A study corner and GeoBee quiz game are available as well.

Geography Action and Geography Awareness Week

Browse the resources section of the Geography Action community for activities and ideas.

NCGE Support for Geography Clubs

<http://www.ncge.org/resources/geoclub>

Are you looking for activities and ideas to use with a geography club? Are you looking for student research activities? The National Council for the Social Studies (NCGE) provides these activities free on its website. Each month a new set of activities are posed on the Geography Club site.
