Special Features of Master's Program

Master's coursework and clinical practice are aligned with the state and national standards as well as the UNCG Conceptual Framework: "Developing caring, collaborative, and competent educators who work in diverse settings. Delivery of courses includes a variety of distance learning strategies. Seven concentrations of the M.Ed. in Curriculum and Instruction (elementary education, English as a Second Language, middle grades education, social studies education, science education, Spanish education, and French education) and the M.Ed. in Latin offer two tracks: a Classroom Practice Track (CPT) and a Teacher Leadership Track (TLT). Four concentrations offer only the TLT: Higher Education, Instructional Technology, Mathematics, and Reading. The Classroom Practice Track is designed for candidates who did not pursue licensure as part of a bachelor's degree and wish to be licensed to teach while earning a master's degree. Candidates in this track have to complete prerequisite coursework to meet initial Standard Professional I level competencies in addition to the master's requirements for advanced competencies. The Teacher Leadership Track is designed for candidates who already hold an initial Standard Professional I license to teach and who wish to pursue more advanced study in a field of education; action research is an emphasis that separates this track from the Classroom Practice one. The Teacher Leadership Track includes CUI 675: Teacher as so that students can develop a thorough and meaningful action research project.
