

IHE Bachelor Performance Report

Salem College

2014 - 2015

Overview of the Institution

Salem College is an independent college committed to the liberal arts and to the preparation of professional educators. Founded by the Moravian Church as a school for girls (now Salem Academy), Salem College is the oldest continually operating women's college in the nation and the 13th oldest college overall. Located in Historic Old Salem in the city of Winston-Salem, the College seeks to demonstrate the relevance of more than two centuries of liberal education to the demands of contemporary society. Salem provides a unique environment where students experience the rewards of rigorous academic work; expand their capacity for creative, analytical, and ethical thought; and prepare for positions of leadership and responsibility in a changing world. As early as the 1850's, Salem Academy was recognized as providing preparation for the teaching profession. The teacher education program of the College has been accredited by the state of NC since 1964. Undergraduate licensure candidates pursue a Bachelor of the Arts (B.A.), a Bachelor of Science (B.S.), or a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration (B.S.B.A.) degree in conjunction with a licensure curriculum for elementary education (K-6), general curriculum special education (K-12), second language French or Spanish (K-12), middle school/secondary content areas (English/language arts, math, social studies, science), and art education (K-12). All undergraduate licensure candidates also complete fieldwork in education including a semester long practicum (student teaching). Post-baccalaureate (post-bac) candidates pursuing initial licensure in elementary or special education complete all content-area and licensure coursework at Salem College; however, it is assumed that post-bac candidates wishing to teach in the middle or secondary grades begin their licensure programs already possessing a B.A./B.S. or the required 24 hours in their desired area of speciality. If not, such candidates pursue at least 24 hours of content coursework simultaneously to the post-bac licensure curriculum. Additionally, add-on initial licensure is offered in the areas of birth-kindergarten (B-K); Academically and Intellectually Gifted (AIG, K-12), reading (K-12), and English as a Second Language (ESL, K-12). Salem offers advanced competency licensure and master's degrees for licensed practitioners wishing to enhance their professional skills in the areas of: elementary education (K-6); general curriculum special education (K-12); language and literacy (K-12); and school counseling (K-12).

Special Characteristics

Salem College is a multi-age campus located in a beautiful, restored historic village. Traditional age students are women, and most are campus residents. Adult students seeking their first four-year degrees are a significant and valued part of the undergraduate population as well. The graduate program serves two constituencies: adult students with college degrees (some with advanced degrees) wishing to change careers and enter teaching, and experienced teachers who seek to become master practitioners and enhance their professional skills and licensure. Lateral entry teachers are offered licensure coursework in a variety of speciality areas. In order to accommodate many of our students' work schedules, classes for both initial and advanced licensure are available during evening hours. The constructivist philosophy guides all of Salem's teacher education programs; faculty and course design emphasize integrated, authentic, student-centered instruction. We seek to promote the cognitive development and the two dispositions we value most in each prospective educator: all students are learners and teachers are responsible for creating the conditions of learning for all students.

Program Areas and Levels Offered

Salem College offers the following undergraduate teacher education programs leading to initial North Carolina licensure: elementary education (K-6); art education (K-12); content areas for the middle grades (6-8) in English language arts, mathematics, science, and social studies; general curriculum special education (K-12); second language French or Spanish (K-12); and content-area secondary education (9-12) in English, mathematics, science, and social studies. At the graduate level, Master of the Arts of Teaching (MAT) candidates may earn licensure (initial and/or advanced) in: art education (K-12); elementary education (K-6); middle grades content areas (6-8); general curriculum special education (K-12); secondary education content areas (9-12); and second language French or Spanish (K-12). Lateral entry teachers may apply for admission to masters degree programs (MAT) leading to initial and advanced licensure in speciality areas including: art (K-12); elementary education (K-12); middle grades content areas (6-8); secondary education content areas (9-12); second language French or Spanish (K-12); and general curriculum special education (K-12). Candidates who already possess a first license may pursue add-on initial licensure for: academically and intellectually gifted (AIG K-12); birth-kindergarten (BK); English as a Second Language (ESL K-12); and reading (K-12).

For the literacy events, students from the primary and the	practicum semester, greater success in the teaching experience resulted. Both groups report learning from each other throughout the semester experience. Exit polls conducted of attendees at all school events (students, parents, teachers, etc.) indicated a high level of satisfaction with the particular. Principals, teachers, and parents anecdotally reported that they felt such partnerships were a valued part of students' educational programs. In reflective writings about their experiences working with partner schools, Salem students reported that participation in these events helped them to feel more confident about their abilities to plan instructional activities and to interact in authentic ways with learners, parents, and school-based personnel. School partners have already requested that these events be scheduled again for the upcoming year. School partners expressed their appreciation of the volunteer spirit and professional demeanor of the Salem students. These partners have already requested that we introduce students to the idea of proctoring early in the year and incorporate reflections about proctoring in course assignments (so as to encourage increased participation). The following photo was posted in our partner school, Ibrahim Elementary.

B. Brief description of unit/institutional efforts to promote SBE priorities.

For the 2014-2015 report, briefly describe your current efforts or future plans to respond to the recent legislative provisions below.

- a) All candidates are prepared to use digital and other instructional technologies to provide high-quality, integrated digital teaching and learning to all students. All of our students are required to take a class on 21st Century Teaching & Learning. In this course, students are well prepared on various digital and instructional technologies. Additionally, students are able to apply their knowledge while working in schools during their early field experiences and during student teaching.

- b) Assess elementary and special education: general curriculum candidates prior to licensure to determine that they possess the requisite knowledge in scientifically based reading and mathematics instruction that is aligned with the State Board's expectations. Describe your efforts for ensuring candidates are prepared for the new Foundations of Reading and General Curriculum licensure exams effective October 1, 2014.

Our professors have attended training sessions offered by DPI throughout the year to gain knowledge about this new licensure exam. We have taken the practice tests provided by Pearson. We are offering review sessions (for the Math subtest, our math department professors have been helping us) for the Pearson tests. Professors for our two literacy classes are working to assure that the content on the Foundations of Reading test is incorporated into our classes.

- c) Candidates (preparing to teach in elementary schools) are prepared to apply formative and summative assessments within the school and classroom setting through technology-based assessment systems available in North Carolina schools that measure and predict expected student improvement.

Formative and summative assessment is part of all our methods classes. Although we are sharing with our students knowledge of the various technology-based assessment systems available in North Carolina, the only direct experience our students have with these occurs during the student teaching semester.

- d) Candidates (preparing to teach in elementary schools) are prepared to integrate arts education across the curriculum.

We require all of our students (including middle and high school) to write lesson and unit plans that integrate arts education. The unit that is uploaded to Folitek during student teaching demonstrates the student's ability to do so.
